

Raúl Valverde: Mirror, Mirror

“Mirror, Mirror” presents the work of New York-based artists Nicholas Steindorf and Raúl Valverde featuring simulated realities, intangible form, and the reflective nature of abstraction.

Day & Night Projects presents an exhibition in their Atlanta gallery, curated by Mountain, featuring Raúl Valverde. The Spanish artist has created a 3D “virtual sculpture” that exists solely as a computer-generated simulation, but draws from source images of the physical gallery space of Day & Night Projects. Nicholas Steindorf will present a series of video works incorporating digital animation and moving image “still lifes” of both real and simulated objects.

Raúl Valverde (b. 1980, Madrid, Spain) lives and works in New York. Recent exhibitions include solo exhibitions at 300 Morgan, NY, and Ogami Press, Madrid; and a residency at the International Studio & Curatorial Program. He has an MFA from School of Visual Arts; an MA from Central Saint Martins College of Art and Design, University of the Arts, London; and a BFA from Universidad Complutense de Madrid.
