

Henry VIII / Enrique VIII

Four hundred years after the original production of “Henry VIII,” Rakatá brings to stage an exciting and award winning adaptation of the classic play.

A supremely accomplished retelling of this most notorious episode in English history.

–The Guardian UK

In 1533, the Spanish were enraged by Catherine de Aragon’s divorce from Henry VIII. Eighty years later, Shakespeare engaged with the subject in his last play. Now four hundred years later, Rakatá, Madrid’s premier classical company, re-imagines this play from a Spanish perspective, with the thrilling clarity they bring to their productions of Spanish Golden Age work.

The show was presented at the International Theatre Festival Globe to Globe in London’s Globe Theatre last year for the Cultural Olympics 2012 and has been seen by more than 50.000 people in the U.K and Spain.
