

Recent Cinema from Spain III

Recent Cinema from Spain Miami's four-day series will premiere Spain's most recognized films of the year: 'The Body,' 'A Gun In Each Hand,' 'Combustion,' 'Son of Cain,' 'The Last Days' and 'Hold Up.'

Following the tremendous success of the last two editions, the third edition of the Recent Cinema from Spain Series will be returning to Miami to host a four-day Spanish film event celebrating the diversity of contemporary Spanish cinema.

One of the wittiest recent Spanish comedies, this film takes a hilarious look at eight Spanish men entering their forties and confronting various midlife crises (one husband suspects his wife is cheating on him while another seeks reconciliation with his divorced wife). You can't help but love these good-hearted and friendly fellows as they lay their lives bare; though there are many twists in their stories, there are also amusing flashes of familiarity to their situations.

2013, 99 minutes, directed by Daniel Calparsoro. Cast: Alex Gonzalez, Adriana Ugarte and Alberto Ammann.

Mikel (X-Men actor Álex González) meets Ari (Adriana Ugarte) at his engagement with girlfriend Julia (María Castro). Ari is fascinating, beautiful, passionate... and up to her neck in illegal car racing. But that's not the only curve she introduces: when Ari's boyfriend cooks up a plan to rob Julia's business, Mikel has to choose between an exciting new life with Ari and his former love for Julia.

The Body (El Cuerpo)

On Saturday, November 23 at 6:45 pm. Screening followed by a discussion with guest TBC.

2012, 125 minutes, directed by Oriol Paulo. Cast: Jose Coronado, Belen Rueda, Hugo Silva.

A heady mix of classic noir, blood-chilling horror and high suspense, The Body is a thriller following a detective (Award winner Spanish star José Coronado) who searches for a corpse (lead actress in JA Bayona The orphanage, Belen Rueda) that has gone missing from a morgue.

The Last Days (Los Últimos Días)

Miami premiere. On Saturday, November 23 at 9:45 pm.

2013, 100 minutes, directed by David and Àlex Pastor.

As in their 2009 film Carriers, writer-directors David and Àlex Pastor drop viewers into a desperate, plague-stricken world. Here the epidemic is a fatal form of agoraphobia, and as what's left of humanity hunkers down inside buildings, computer programmer Marc (Quim Gutiérrez) attempts to reach girlfriend Julia (Marta Etura) through the subways and tunnels of Barcelona. With award-winning Spanish star José Coronado. An apocalyptic thriller by The Pastor's brothers.

Hold Up! (¡Atraco!)

Miami premiere. On Sunday, November 24 at 7:30 pm. Screening followed by a discussion with actress Amaia Salamanca, and preceded by Tryouts, 14 minutes, directed by Susana Casares, winner of the New Filmmakers from Spain Short Film Contest.

2012, 111 minutes, directed by Eduard Cortes with Spanish star Amaia Salamanca, Oscar Jaenada and Argentinian star Guillermo Francella. In the 1950s in Madrid, Spain, a group of Argentinians loyal to the deposed president Peron plan a robbery to recover the jewels that used to belong to the president's late wife, Evita. Two heavily armed men wearing military outfits rob a famous jewellery store. They steal jewels worth millions, but one of the thieves is injured. Every newspaper carries the story; there hasn't been a hold-up like this in over twenty years, it is worthy of a film.
