

Spanish Colonial Art: The Beauty of Two Traditions

Colonial art of the 16th, 17th, and 18th centuries on exhibition at the Frost Art Museum.

The art of Spain reached the Americas on board the ships of the explorers, on the banners of the conquistadors, in illustrated Bibles, and in the form of small devotional images and portraits.

Colonial Art of the sixteenth through the eighteenth centuries represents a synthesis of imagery from Spain with that of the Americas, especially in areas with rich indigenous traditions and popular art forms, and embodies the blending of native traditions with those of Europe. Curated by Carol Damian.

Preview reception on April 20, 2013 at 5 pm.

HERITAGE
MIAMI

Wed, April 24–
Sun, August 25, 2013

Venue

The Patricia & Phillip Frost Art Museum,
10975 SW 17th Street, Miami, FL 33199

View map

Phone: 305-348-2890

Admission

Free and open to the public. Presented in conjunction with the 2013 exhibition series Commemorating 500 Years 1513-2013: Spain, Florida and the Caribbean.

More information

Frost Art Museum

Credits

Organized by the Patricia & Phillip Frost Art Museum. Image: Archangel Miguel, Peruvian School, 17th Century, Oil on canvas, 48.5 inches x 64.5 inches, courtesy of the Jay I. Kislak Foundation.