

Bubi Canal at Foam Talent New York

VISUAL ARTS
NEW YORK

Thu, March 30–
Sun, April 16, 2017

Venue

Red Hook Labs, 133 Imlay St, Brooklyn,
NY 11231

View map

Admission

Free

More information

Foam Talent

24 innovative image makers under the age of 35 join forces for a group exhibition during the 37th edition of The Photography Show.

Every year Foam organises the Foam Talent Call to identify young and international talents. From a total of 1494 submissions from 75 different countries across 6 continents, 24 photographers were selected to be featured in the annual Foam Magazine Talent Issue.

With this exhibition, Foam presents its views on the current state of photography and creates a platform that introduces emerging talents in the international world of photography.

Photo-objects, installations, beamers, lightboxes and wallpapers: Foam Talent goes beyond classic photography. The exhibition displays great diversity in artistic approaches. With each portfolio the selected artists prove to have very distinct and unique visions within a variety of genres.

ABOUT BUBI CANAL

Bubi Canal is a Spanish-born, American-based artist. His work combines different types of media and artistic methods and deals with recurring themes of dreams, emotions and magic. He presents a personal universe that reflects the realm of his imagination with universal resonance.