

Eva Leon: The Soul of the Spanish Violin

MUSIC
NEW YORK

Wed, May 17, 2017

Venue

National Sawdust, 80 N 6th St, Brooklyn, NY 11249

View map

Admission

Buy tickets ($29 in advance; $34 at the door)

Acclaimed Spanish violinist Eva León is joined by pianist Olga Vinokur for a musical journey across her native land, exploring its many traditions, cultures, and colors.

León has won praise across Europe and the Americas for performances that are as charismatic as profound. Her “unabashed flair and passion” (The Strad) have positioned her among Spain’s most celebrated violinists. In this concert, León teams up with internationally acclaimed pianist Olga Vinokur, who has been described by BBC magazine as “superlative”.

In her most recent album titled Naxos, León once again gives voice to the Spanish idiom through the timeless compositions of Joaquín Rodrigo supported by Olga Vinokur, who contributes with “the strength and consistency of her artistry” as noted by The New York Times.