

'Landscape with Yellow Birds'

LITERATURE
NEW YORK

Fri, September 27, 2013
6:30 pm

Venue

Instituto Cervantes New York, 211
East 49th Street, New York, NY
10017

View map

Phone: 212-308-7720

More information

Venue's website

Credits

Image: Landscape with Yellow Birds,
Archipelago Books.

Reading and discussion of José Ángel Valente's renowned poetry, recently translated to English by Thomas Christensen.

Tom Christensen brings the words of José Ángel Valente, one of the greatest Spanish poets of the 20th Century, to U.S. audiences through the recently published book Landscape with Yellow Birds.

Valente earned his fame for keeping himself and his art outside of political polarization, yet his lyrical verses and their poetic musings stood as an argument for the necessity of art and imagination even in Franco's Spain.

This reading and discussion will give audiences the chance to hear Valente's inspirational words not only in their original Spanish, but also in Christensen's faithful and striking English translation.