Pablo Heras-Casado, principal guest conductor at Teatro Real in Madrid and director of the Granada Festival, makes his Juilliard415 debut with a program inspired by the Spanish Baroque.

Pablo Heras Casado conducts Madness and Folly: Night Music From Spain, featuring Juan Marcolini's Overture to La Dicha en la desgracia y via campestre, Francesco Geminiani's Concerto Grosso on La Follia (after Corelli), Georg Philipp Telemann's Ouverture-Suite, TWV 55:G10, Burlesque de Quixotte, Luigi Boccherini's La Musica Notturna delle strade di Madrid, Op. 30, No. 6 (G. 324), Boccherini's Concerto for Cello, 2 Oboes, 2 Horns, and Strings in D Major, No. 8, G. 483, with Juilliard cellist Sydney Zum Mallen, José de Nebra's Seguidillas, and Christoph Willibald Gluck's Dances from Don Juan.

"Early music remains a focal point for Pablo Heras-Casado," writes Thomas May in the program notes. "In 2007, Heras-Casado cofounded La Compañía Teatro del Príncipe in Aranjuez to explore the neglected heritage of opera, zarzuela, and its offshoots originating from the Spanish Baroque."

This program is part of the 10th anniversary celebration of Juilliard Historical Performance, which is taking place throughout the 2019-20 season. Juilliard's full-scholarship Historical Performance program was established and endowed in 2008 by the generous support of Bruce and Suzie Kovner.
