Jointly organized by New York based European Cultural Institutes, with Institut Ramón Llul and Instituto Cervantes. Cristian Crusat was proposed by Instituto Cervantes; Martí Sales was proposed by Institut Ramón Llul.

Spanish authors Martí Sales and Cristian Crusat take part in the readings and discussions among leading and emerging literary voices from Europe, and some of America's foremost writers and critics.

The New Literature from Europe Festival of New York celebrates authors from diverse European countries. The festival has become one of New York City's top literature in translation events since its foundation in 2003.

CRISTIAN CRUSAT

Cristian Crusat was born in Málaga, Spain. He is the author of Estatuas (2006), Tranquilos en tiempo de guerra (2010), Breve teoría del viaje y el desierto (2011), and Solitario empeño (2015). In 2013, he won the European Union Prize for Literature. His essays, translations, and articles on literature have been published in a wide range of Spanish and Latin American journals. In 2012, Crusat also edited and translated El deseo de lo único. Teoría de la ficción, the critical essays of the French writer Marcel Schwob. He teaches the Spanish language and literature abroad.
