

Music Among Friends: Pianists Rosa Torres-Pardo and Isabel Pérez Dobarro

The two Spanish pianists play music by Isaac Albéniz and Enrique Granados at the 12th edition of the Latin American Cultural Week.

The 12th Annual Latin American Cultural Week (LACW) runs November 10 through 19, 2017. LACW is a diverse and dynamic showcase of the rich culture of Latin America and Spain throughout New York City, with more than 40 theater, music, dance, film, literary, and visual arts presentations.

On Tuesday November 14th, LACW hosts a concert featuring Rosa Torres-Pardo and Isabel Pérez Dobarro. The pianists present music by Isaac Albéniz (1860-1909) and Enrique Granados (1867-1916) through the performance of two of their most important piano works. Torres-Pardo and Pérez Dobarro will also collaborate as a duo in the Caterpillar Songs by Albéniz, a beautiful yet rarely played set.

ABOUT PAMAR

PAMAR (Pan American Musical Art Research, Inc), is an organization founded in 1984 to promote awareness of and appreciation for the cultures of Latin America by sponsoring and presenting multi-disciplinary performances and events to a broad audience of all ages, racial, cultural and socioeconomic backgrounds in the New York tri-state area, in collaboration with local arts and culture organizations.

MUSIC
NEW YORK

Tue, November 14, 2017

Venue

Saint Peter's Church, 619 Lexington Ave,
New York, NY 10022

View map

Phone: 516-586-3433

Admission

Free

More information

Latin American Cultural Week

Credits

Organized by PAMAR in collaboration with the New York City Department of Cultural Affairs, NYC & Company Foundation, El Diario, De Norte a Sur, Impacto Latino News, Univision, Consulate General of Spain in NY, Consulate General of Argentine Republic in NY, and Iglesia de Sion/St. Peter's Church