Aminodin's father always smiles because he says "happy people live longer." That's why, at eight years old, Aminodin puts his best smile while working at the Papandayan dump, where he lives with his family. Her cousin Aliman, on the other hand, lost his when bombs started falling from the sky in the city of Marawi.

A fictional story inspired by reality, El Monstruo Invisible was created as an awareness tool to deepen the knowledge that society has about hunger, as well as
