

Festival de la Palabra 2018

This year's edition of the Festival de la Palabra pays tribute to the Puerto Rican diaspora during six days of dynamic participatory programs and a series of readings, lectures, film screenings and workshops to promote constant dialogue among international writers and readers.

Festival de la Palabra 2018 welcomes Esmeralda Santiago—one of the first Puerto Rican writers who moved to the U.S. and has written about Puerto Rico and her life away from home—along with over 50 writers from the Americas and Spain, including Alberto Torres Blandina, Carlos Pardo, Edjanga Jones, Elena Medel, José Manuel Fajardo, Ioana Gruia and Marta López Luaces.

All activities take place at Archivo General y Biblioteca Nacional de Puerto Rico, 500 Avenida Juan Ponce de León, San Juan, 00901, Puerto Rico; and Parque Luis Muñoz Rivera, Avenida Luis Muñoz Rivera, San Juan, 00901, Puerto Rico.

LITERATURE
SAN JUAN, PR

Tue, October 09–
Sun, October 14, 2018

Venue

Various venues, San Juan, Puerto Rico

View map

Phone: 787-773-1100

Admission

Free

More information

Festival de la Palabra

Credits

Organized by Salón Literario
Libroamerica of Puerto Rico and supported by Acción Cultural Española
(AC/E), and the Spanish Ministry of Foreign Affairs through PICE