

Fair Water: We Art Water Film Festival

As part of the “Fair Water: A Right of All” program, this international short-film competition aims to recognize and reward the talent of filmmakers who share their concern about the water challenges we face.

We Art Water Film Festival was born to raise awareness of the water problem around the world through the creation of audio visual pieces that address this issue.

After the success of previous editions and as part of the program Fair Water: A Right of All, We Art Water Film Festival features 16 winning short films from the 4 editions of the Festival celebrated so far, including short films from Colombia, Nepal, Nigeria, India, and Spain, among others.

This event is part of the Fair Water: A Right of All program.
