

Lens of Adventure

An exhibition inspired by nature and outdoor adventures near Washington D.C., featuring 25 photographs and a book with 20 curated outdoor trips.

Nature possesses contextual dimensions, offers a multi-sensory experience and presents itself as a seamless unity. In 2016, Spanish adventurers Mon Zamora and Raisa Leao decided to truly experience it, leaving their expectations and thousands of human artifacts behind in order to appreciate nature and its beauty around Washington, D.C.

The exhibition is the result of these adventures. It invites you to immerse yourself in nature and observe it with full sympathy as being. The photos, however, are only half of the experience; the true exhibition is nature itself, which is out there to be discovered and appreciated.

The book, 20 weekend trips near Washington D.C., will be launched at the exhibition.

VISUAL ARTS
WASHINGTON, D.C.

Tue, February 21–
Mon, March 06, 2017

Venue

IDB Staff Association Art Gallery, 1300
New York Avenue NW (13th St entrance), Washington, DC 20577

View map

Admission

Free

More information

Lens of Adventure

Credits

Presented by the IDB Staff Association
Art Gallery in collaboration with Mon
Zamora and Raisa Leao