

Little World at 4th ReelAbilities Film Festival

ReelAbilities is the largest festival in the country dedicated to promoting awareness and appreciation of the lives, stories and artistic expressions of people with different disabilities.

Initiated in New York City in 2007, the festival presents 20 award winning films by and about people with disabilities in 16 venues throughout the Greater D.C. region. Post-screening discussions and other engaging programs bring together the community to explore, discuss, embrace, and celebrate the diversity of our shared human experience.

LITTLE WORLD (MON PETIT)

- Directed by Marcel Barrena, Spain, 2012, 83 minutes. In Catalan and Spanish.
- Doc U! Award, Amsterdam International Documentary Film Festival 2012. BIFF Award for Best Feature Documentary, Boulder International Film Festival 2013.

Albert loves life, and he won't let anything get in his way, least of all his wheelchair. He's only 19, but he's already traveled to dozens of countries. He's made a sport of leaving with only 20€ in his pocket and putting his faith in the innate goodness of people he meets along the way. This time, his destination is as far away as possible from his home in Barcelona: a lighthouse in New Zealand. For the first time his girlfriend Anna will be joining him. It's impossible to hitchhike with a camera team in your wake, so they decide to film their adventures themselves.
