

'Templanza' by Casa Patas Flamenco Foundation in Washington, D.C.

Fuego Flamenco IX continues with the U.S. premiere of 'Templanza,' choreographed and performed by José Jurado and featuring dancer Isabel Rodríguez.

GALA's acclaimed festival Fuego Flamenco IX is an exploration of traditional flamenco, its breadth and diversity through contemporary expressions, and its impact in the United States. This year's attractions include the world premiere of Uno Más Uno created by Edwin Aparicio and Aleksey Kulikov for D.C.'s Flamenco Aparicio Dance Company, and the United States premiere of Templanza, presented in collaboration with Madrid's Fundación Conservatorio Flamenco Casa Patas.

Templanza explores the power of the creative impulse that can range from calming the spirit to erupting in deep emotions. In Templanza, states José Jurado, I bare my most inner self and let myself be moved by an infinite number of feelings that I best express through the art of dance.

The show also features singers Matías López and Eva Ruiz; guitarists David Durán and Isaac Muñoz; and Diego Villegas on flute, saxophone, and harmonica.
