Washington D.C.- SPAIN arts & culture, PRAGDA and AFI Silver present the 9th edition of the FESTIVAL OF NEW SPANISH CINEMA, the official traveling festival about the new trends in Spanish Cinema. The Festival screens some of the riskiest and most innovative Spanish films of the year directed by helmers such as Alex de la Iglesia, Gracia Querejeta, Daniel Guzmán, Asier Altuna, and Alejo Flah. FESTIVAL OF NEW SPANISH CINEMA provides a space for the audience to discuss the pieces with the filmmakers, has already been touring to Houston, Portland, Chicago and San Juan de Puerto Rico.

PROGRAM

NOTHING IN RETURN (A CAMBIO DE NADA)

Opening Night on Thursday, June 16 at 7:15 pm. Post-screening reception sponsored by SPAIN arts & culture

Also showing on Sunday, June 19 at 4:30 pm.

Directed by Daniel Guzmán, Spain, 2015, 90 minutes. In Spanish with English subtitles.

Best Film, Best Director, Best Supporting Actor, Critics' Award, 2015 Málaga Film Festival.

Actor Daniel Guzmán (who can be seen playing a cop in My Big Night) makes an auspicious directing debut with this high-spirited tale of disaffected youth that won Goya Awards for Best New Director and Best New Actor. Bright, rebellious teenager Darío (Miguel Herrán), expelled from school and estranged from his battling parents (María Miguel and Luis Tosar), runs away from home. He forms a surrogate family on the streets of Madrid with his hefty best friend Luismi (Antonio Bachiller), the avuncular auto mechanic Justo (Felipe García Véllez) and the nonagenarian junk-dealer Antonia (beautifully played by the director's own grandmother, Antonia Guzmán). When Justo gets into trouble with the law, Darío launches a series of ill-fated schemes to bail him out. Upbeat but not sappy, Guzmán's film is a love letter to Madrid, and his acting background shines through in the infectious rapport among the performers. (Note courtesy of Gene Siskel Film Center.)

MY BIG NIGHT (MI GRAN NOCHE)

On Friday, June 17 at 7:15 pm.

On Saturday, June 18 at 10:15 pm.

Directed by Álex de la Iglesia, Spain, 2015, 100 minutes. In Spanish with English subtitles.

Official Selection, 2015 Toronto and San Sebastián film festivals; Opening Night, 2016 Miami Film Festival.

The latest from pulp maestro Álex de la Iglesia (Witching and Bitching, The Perfect Crime) may be his most deliriously over-the-top film yet. The troubled taping of a television New Year's Eve variety special devolves into chaos, beset by a fatal accident, an attempted assassination, outsized egos and raging libidos. Wannabe actor Jose (Pepón Nieto) gets his big break when he's called to replace a recently deceased extra; he takes a seat next to bombshell Paloma (Blanca Suárez) who may or may not be a femme fatale. The veteran crooner Alphonso (real-life crooner Raphael, in a slyly magnetic feat of self-parody) longs for his heyday in the halcyon '70s, while seething at having to share a stage with today's performers like the lunkheaded Adanne (Mario Casas). But these pop stars inspire dangerous passions in their public: Alphonso's long-suffering adopted son and assistant Yuri (Carlos Areces) hires a former Alphonso super-fan and failed songwriter (Jaime Ordóñez) to assassinate their fallen idol, while two gorgeous gold-diggers (Marta Castellote and Marta Guerras) scheme to secure a vial of the randy Adanne's semen in order to baby-blackmail him. As the party revs up and the cameras roll on the studio floor, an angry mob of protestors outside threatens to break down the doors.

WHEN A TREE FALLS (AMAMA)

On Friday, June 17 at 9:20 pm

Directed by Asier Altuna, Spain, 2015, 103 minutes.

In Spanish with English subtitles. Official Selection, 2015 San Sebastián Film Festival.

This powerfully visualized drama of generational conflict signals the emergence of a vital Basque regional cinema in Spain. The crux of the film is a farm –spectacularly situated in the mountainous northeast of Spain– which has remained in the same family for countless generations. But when the eldest son and heir apparent, like so many of the region’s young people, decamps to the city, the burden passes to his sister Amaia (Iraia Elias), an artist whose progressive ways place her at odds with her rigidly traditionalist father (Kandido Uranga). The film’s title, which means “Grandma” in Basque, refers to the family matriarch who will play a pivotal role in Amaia’s attempt to bridge the divide between tradition and evolution. ### EASY SEX, SAD MOVIES (SEXO FÁCIL, PELÍCULAS TRISTES)

On Saturday, June 18 at 6 pm.

On Sunday, June 19 at 9:10 pm.

Directed by Alejo Flah, Spain, 2014, 90 minutes. In Spanish with English subtitles.

Conventional rom-com elements get an imaginative twist in this sprightly meta-movie in the vein of Stranger than Fiction and Adaptation. Spanish producers hire Argentinian screenwriter Pablo (because “he won’t charge us in euros”) to write a romantic comedy set in Madrid. Pablo (Ernesto Alterio) supplies all the expected genre ingredients – meet-cute, best friends, shared preference (gin-and-tonic)– but complications set in as he becomes increasingly aware of the contrast with his own deteriorating marriage, and his real and fictional worlds begin to bleed into each other. Will Pablo’s movie have a happy ending? Will Pablo? (Note courtesy of Gene Siskel Film Center.)

HAPPY 140

On Saturday, June 18 at 8 pm.

On Sunday, June 19 at 7 pm.

Directed by Gracia Querejeta, Spain, 2015, 98 minutes. In Spanish with English subtitles

On the eve of her 40th birthday, Elia invites a group of close family and friends to a luxury Canary Islands getaway to tell them some extraordinary news: she's won a 140-million-euro jackpot. But while they all feign excitement to the birthday girl's face, behind closed doors they quickly begin to plot their way into a piece of the fortune. With a star-studded cast including Antonio de la Torre (Marshland, Volver) and Eduard Fernández (The Skin I live in), filmmaker Gracia Querejeta has crafted a noir-tinged, darkly comedic thriller
